Let's Start!

Sally and John are at the supermarket! What's for dinner?

Learning Outcome

Accurately exchange information about buying things in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you like to eat? Why?
- What do you not like to eat? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can say what I like and dislike.
- I can make suggestions.
- I can express how far or how near objects are using this, that, these, those.

Let's Explore!

Sally and John are walking down the supermarket aisle. What will they buy?

* The pathway between the rows in the supermarket.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Why don't we get something for dinner?
John: Hmmm ... Let's cook a meat dish.
Sally: Okay, chicken or beef?
John: I prefer chicken.
Sally: I don't like chicken. I like beef.
John: Okay, beef is good, too.
Sally: We should make pasta. I have a recipe for a great pasta sauce!
John: Sounds good! What do we need?
Sally: We need tomatoes. Those look fresh! I love fresh tomatoes!
John: Hmmm ... these look rotten!
Sally: Yeah, we can get a jar of pasta sauce! They are in that aisle.
John: Okay, this looks yummy! We should get it.
Sally: Sure. John, look at that cake. That looks delicious!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Demonstrative Pronouns

You use demonstrative pronouns to replace people or things. A demonstrative pronoun tells you if something is singular or plural and if the thing(s) is near or far.

	Singular	Plural	Examples
Near	This	These	This is delicious! These are yummy!
Far	That	Those	You can smell that from here! I want those.

Making Suggestions

When you ask for a suggestion, the answer can be casual or polite.

Casual	Polite	Examples
How about ... ? How do you feel about ... ? You/We can ... You/We should ... Why don't ... ?	What would you think of ... ? You/We could ... I suggest ...	How about we get those? We should get that! Why don't you try this? It's delicious!
