Let's Start!

What's for dessert? Ice cream? Cake? How about a pie?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about free-time activities or personal likes/dislikes in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can say what I like and dislike.
- I can make suggestions.
- I can make invitations.

Ask your partner:

- What desserts do you like?
- What desserts don't you like?
- What dessert do you suggest for your friend?

Let's Explore!

Time to pick some dessert with Sally and John! What are they going to bake?

* To "bake" means to make food using heat like cakes or pies.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Look at the cake!
John: I don't like cake. It's not my favorite.
Sally: Why don't we make a fruit tart? We have fruit.
John: Hmm ... how about pudding?
Sally: I hate pudding! Let's make a pie! I like pie.
John: Apple pie? That's my favorite kind!
Sally: It's my favorite too! Let's make apple pie and have ice cream with it!
John: I love ice cream. What flavor should we get?
Sally: I also love ice cream! Let's get a tub of vanilla ice cream! That tastes great with apple pie.
John: Hmm ... maybe we should try something new. Let's try this flavor.
Sally: Maybe next time. Hand me that tub.

Let's Practice!

Let's practice making suggestions!

Instructions: Practice reading aloud the sentences.

- 1 Why don't we make a fruit tart?
- 2 Let's bake a pie!
- 3 Let's make apple pie.
- 4 Let's have ice cream with the pie!
- 5 Let's get a tub of vanilla ice cream!

Let's Practice!

Sally talks to John. What does she say?

*Instructions: Complete the sentences. Write the missing word. Use: make, bake, get, Look, try.

- 1 Let's _____ an apple pie.
- 2 _____ at that cake.
- 3 Let's _____ this flavor.
- 4 Let's _____ a tub of ice cream!

Learning Points

Making Suggestions with Imperatives

You can use Imperatives to make suggestions.

You use "Let's + base of verb" (without to) when you want to include the speaker in the suggestion:

Let's make dinner.

Let's bake a pie.

Another way to make a suggestion is to use "Why don't + subject + base of verb" (without to):

Why don't we make dinner?

Why don't you try that?
